Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to:

- independently identify and examine a problem in the field of business administration,
- critically evaluate research methods,
- relate problems in the field of business administration to research methods
- search for, critically evaluate and use relevant theory for the chosen problem area,
- reflect on the relation between theory and empirical data,
- describe and analyse empirical data,
- present their research process and results clearly and concisely in oral and written form,
- critically review the work presented by other students.

Content and Form of Instruction

The degree project entails planning and completing relevant investigations in a business administration area, analysing the data and presenting conclusions. Students are expected to participate in seminars and supervision sessions and to defend their thesis at a final seminar. They are also required to critically review and discuss other students' work. Supervision is only offered to students while the course is in progress. Students who fail to complete the project satisfactorily during this time may re-register at the next course opportunity. They will then be offered additional supervision to the extent made possible by available resources.

Reading List

See separate document.

Examination

Assessment is based on the submitted thesis and active seminar performance. The number of examination opportunities is limited to five.

Grades

One of the grades Distinction (VG), Pass (G), or Fail (U) is awarded in the examination of the course.

Quality Assurance

Follow-up relating to learning conditions and goal-fulfilment takes place both during and upon completion of the course in order to ensure continuous improvement. Course assessment is based on student views and experiences as reported in written course evaluations and/or group discussions. Students will be informed of the result of the evaluation and of the measures to be taken.
