Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to:

1. give an account of basic features of cultural heritage-based pedagogy,
2. reflect on the educational, cultural and cultural heritage political goals of cultural heritage-based pedagogy,
3. plan simple cultural heritage-based pedagogical activities,
4. assess the pedagogical potentials of material cultural heritage resources, and
5. analyse cultural heritage-based pedagogy in terms of the perspectives of cultural heritage and the use of history theory.

Content

The course provides a basic survey of the practices and theoretical logics of cultural heritage-based pedagogy. The clear focus on cultural heritage-based pedagogical exercises at the same time clarifies and problematises the social and theoretical frames of cultural pedagogical activities. Cultural heritage-based pedagogy is therefore treated both in terms of its practical and theoretical relation to cultural heritage, the policies of education and cultural heritage and the use of history.
