Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to:

Knowledge and understanding

1. discuss form, style and interpretation potentials in repertoire from different epochs, and
2. give an account of different phases in the process of studying and performing music.

Competence and skills

3. demonstrate well developed technical instrument skills and formulate and solve technique and rendition problems in the repertoire concerned,
4. play complex music notations prima vista,
5. independently study and perform chosen and assigned solo and chamber music repertoire at a musically high level and with a personal rendition within given time frames,
6. constructively discuss their activities and different musical issues with musicians and other artistic practitioners.

Judgement and approach

7. critically reflect upon and discuss their own and others' artistic approach to music-making, and
8. discuss their own learning process and development from an artistic and technical perspective and with relevance to professional demands on musicians.

Content

Students study, interpret, and perform independently chosen as well as assigned Western classical repertoire pieces from different epochs on their main instrument. They also discuss and apply repertoire, style, musical analysis and interpretation and give accounts of the phases of studying and performing music. There are presentations and applications of complex technical exercises and training in reading complex music notations. Students play repertoire requiring highly developed technical skills and familiarity with style and performance praxis. Parts of the repertoire are performed in in-house concerts. The course also includes discussion of the students' own learning processes and the progress taking place when they study and perform a chosen repertoire and critical reflections on different approaches to music performance.

Instruction is in the form of individual tutorials, seminars, and master classes.

Reading List

See separate document.

Examination

Learning outcomes 1-2 and 6 are assessed based on individual oral presentations.
Learning outcomes 3-5 are assessed based on individual musical performance.
Learning outcomes 7-8 are assessed based on written hand-in assignments.

If students have a decision from Karlstad University entitling them to Targeted Study Support due to a documented disability, the examiner has the right to give such students an adapted examination or to examine them in a different manner.

Grades

One of the grades Distinction (VG), Pass (G) and Fail (U) is awarded in the examination of the course.

Quality Assurance

Follow-up relating to learning conditions and goal-fulfilment takes place both during and upon completion of the course in order to ensure continuous improvement. Course evaluation is partly based on student views and experiences obtained in accordance with current regulations and partly on other data and documentation. Students will be informed of the result of the evaluation and of any measures to be taken.

Course Certificate

A course certificate will be provided upon request.

Additional information

The local regulations for studies at the Bachelor and Master levels at Karlstad University stipulate the obligations and rights of students and staff.
