Learning Outcomes

Knowledge and understanding

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to:

- problematise rendition and technique challenges and problems as well as interpretation possibilities in the repertoire concerned.

Competence and skills

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to:

- within given time frames and independently, rehearse, render and perform music at a high musical level in various ensemble constellations and artistic contexts,
- independently and within given time frames, formulate and solve technique and rendition challenges in the repertoire concerned on the basis of good familiarity with different styles, performance praxis and musical means of expression, and
- with musical integrity interact, cooperate and discuss constructively on artistic issues with other musicians, ensemble leaders and other artistic practitioners in various artistic contexts.

Judgement and approach

Upon completion of the course, students should be able to:

- critically reflect on and problematise their own and others' artistic approach to and rendition and performance of musical interplay, and

- problematise and evaluate their own development and identify their need of further skills in relation to the professional demands that a musician should be an independent and well functioning member of the ensemble.

Content

Students study and perform Western classical music repertoires for various ensemble constellations in different styles and from various epochs as well as repertoire that is based on cross-generic musical forms, artistic areas and means of expression. They problematise and solve technique and rendition problems relating to style, performance praxis, notation issues and interpretation in various areas of music and ensemble constellations. They also critically reflect on and problematise choice of artistic approach, expression and performance as well as development potentials and the need of further skills. Students, whose main instrument is the piano, also practise accompaniment. In-house as well as public concerts are performed. Instruction is in the form of group lessons and concentrated rehearsals during project weeks.

Reading List

See separate document.

Examination

Assessment is individual and based on musical performance and oral presentations discussed in lessons.

Grades

One of the grades Distinction (VG), Pass (G) and Fail (U) is awarded in the examination of the course.

Quality Assurance

Follow-up relating to learning conditions and goal-fulfilment takes place both during and upon completion of the course in order to ensure continuous improvement. Course evaluation is partly based on student views and experiences obtained in accordance with current regulations and partly on other data and documentation. Students will be informed of the result of the evaluation and of any measures to be taken.
