Content

The course Glocal relations centres on how different phenomena such as individualisation, risks and social injustice can be related to globalisation processes. An important component is to problematise the interdependence between global and local processes. The course discusses events in individual lives and links them to global trends and social change. The social consequences of globalisation in modern times are treated.

Instruction is in the form of lectures, individual study and seminars.

Reading List

See separate document.

Examination

Assessment is based on active participation in seminars and an individual written assignment.

Grades

One of the grades Distinction (VG), Pass (G), or Fail (F) is awarded in the examination of the course.

Quality Assurance

Follow-up relating to learning conditions and goal-fulfilment takes place both during and upon completion of the course in order to ensure continuous improvement. Course evaluation is partly based on student views and experiences obtained in accordance with current regulations and partly on other data and documentation. Students will be informed of the result of the evaluation and of any measures to be taken.

Course Certificate

A course certificate will be provided upon request.

Additional information

The course SOA503 cannot be included in the same degree programme as the course SOAD05 (Global and regional development 7.5 ECTS cr).

The local regulations for studies at the Bachelor and Master levels at Karlstad University stipulate the obligations and rights of students and staff.

The course Glocal Relations is part of the Region Building programme and has a multi-disciplinary approach, which means that economic, political, social, cultural, time-space aspects and environmental changes are analysed from different perspectives. Each course offers subject specialisation in one or more dimensions regarding region building.

Course approved on 28 March 2011.
