on.

No one of the participants have answered the questionnaire. My own impression is that the course have functioned well. The pandemia has made it impossible to get students from Banaras Hindu University attending, but we still have had that connection through two lectures from Professor Manoj Mishra at BHU. The students within the course have contributed to a vivid discussion at the seminars. I have good hope for the development of the course to it's full potential in the future.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

Early planning for the possible attendance of students from Banaras Hindu University within the course.

1. Number of first registrations for a course: First registration = the first time a student registers for a specific course.
