Analysis based on course evaluation, including comments fields. If information has been collected in other ways, it should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

All the activities in the nanoscience I (CBGB06) were entirely normal again post the COVID-19 pandemic. In general, the scientific understanding from the earlier courses was improved compared to the last year. The grades from the questionnaire and final results show that this course has fulfilled the tasks and goals stated in the syllabus. There were comments written by students appreciating the course structure, the project, and the helps. The various activities are designed to motivate and encourage all the students to go through the course content thoroughly.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

All the activities are expected to be the same next year. The comments on the presentations may be added to the reports.
