on.

The students answering the questionnaire were very happy: "Now I have vast knowledge about topic related with industry. It was a big study." and "This course structure is very interesting and possible to present my ideas without demarcations. I believe that a free thinking structure would be great to achieve new ideas. This course has been given the freedom to discuss the new concept development. During the entire program I have been successfully developed to discuss and present new concept development which could be successfully implemented for this course as a learning outcome."

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.
