Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

- 1. More pronounced communication between involved teachers is needed in order to avoid misunderstanding regarding schedule.
- 2. Due to plenty of practical application of importance in present course it is important to plan for campus moments even when the main part of the course due to the pandemic has to be on Zoom. A simple lab session would be the best to add into the course.
 - 1. Number of first registrations for a course: First registration = the first time a student registers for a specific course.
