The use of the computer programme is difficult and should be considered how it can be incorporated into the course structure more. One comment asked for more computer exercises, and maybe more pure computer exercises can be included.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

Further development of the course material and structure of the course. It's course with a lot of material and high demands on the student, so further development will make course even better.

1. Number of first registrations for a course: First registration = the first time a student registers for a specific course.
