should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

The comments from the students and the grades from the questionnaire show that the course nicely fulfilled the tasks and goals stated in the syllabus. However, there were some problems related to the book. Some subjects missed deep explanations and were treated theoretically in comprehensive ways, but in the lectures extra materials from other literatures were included. The new textbook is overall better than the previous book, but has some deficiencies, sometimes going through the basics of a specific topic in insufficient details.

It seems that the workload due to the homework was too high for some students. But I think they were designed to deeply motivate the students to thoroughly go through the course content. I nevertheless think that the homework was necessary to basically help students to achieve the goals.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

More feedbacks on exercises are needed with improvements for students to develop and learn better. There is also a need of a clearer statement in the beginning of the course on how many university points/bonus to the examination will be given for the exercises and the seminars.
