Course supervisor's comments

The course was delivered for the first time with two main changes. First, students were allowed to write their reports in either Swedish or English. Second, some students were permitted to work in pairs on the same project, provided they had clearly defined and separate roles and responsibilities.

This year also presented some specific challenges. The number of students was high compared to the number of supervisors, with each supervisor overseeing 2 to 4 students. Additionally, students were responsible for finding a company for their project, which proved to be a challenge for many.

Despite these difficulties, the quality of the works and the evaluations were satisfactory. We are committed to further improvements in the coming years.
