Changes suggested in the course analysis of the previous course date:

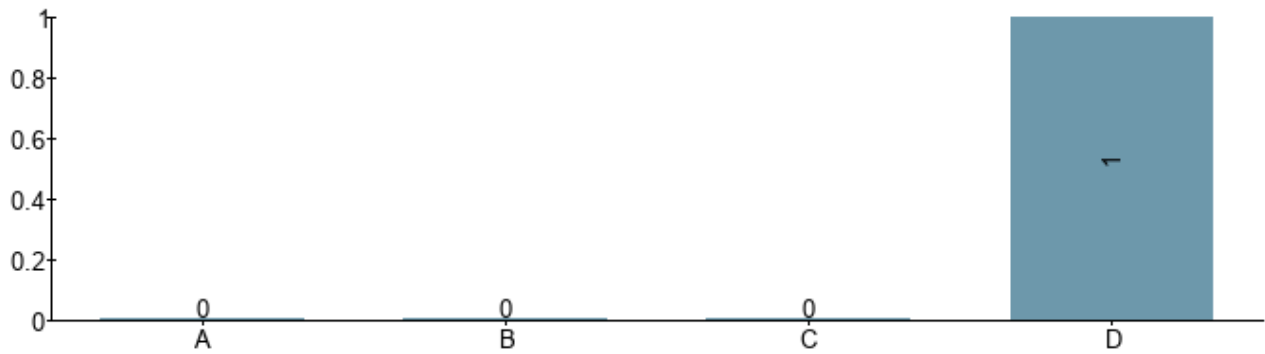

This section is not relevant for the course analysis this year since I was the course director for the first time in Spring 2023.

1. The contents and structure of the course has supported the achievement of the learning outcomes

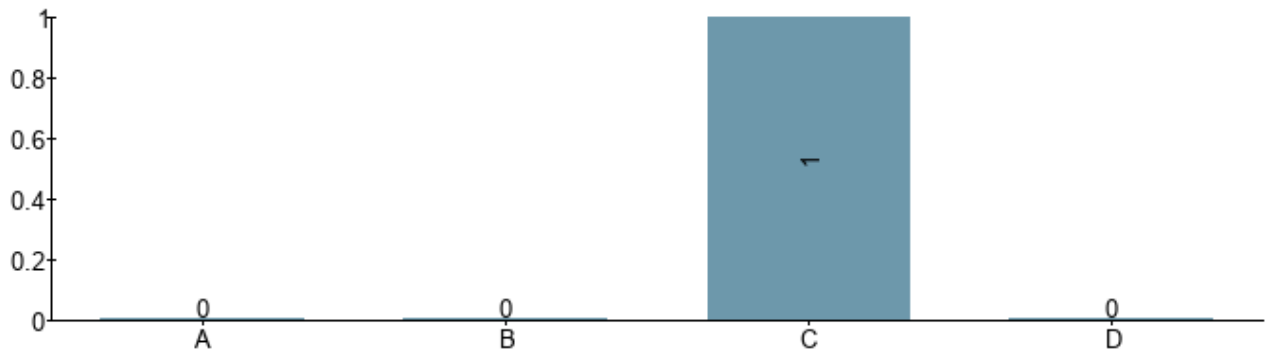

- A) To a very large extent
- B) To a large extent
- C) To some extent
- D) To a little extent or not at all

2. The assessments included in the course have given me the opportunity to demonstrate my achievement of the learning outcomes

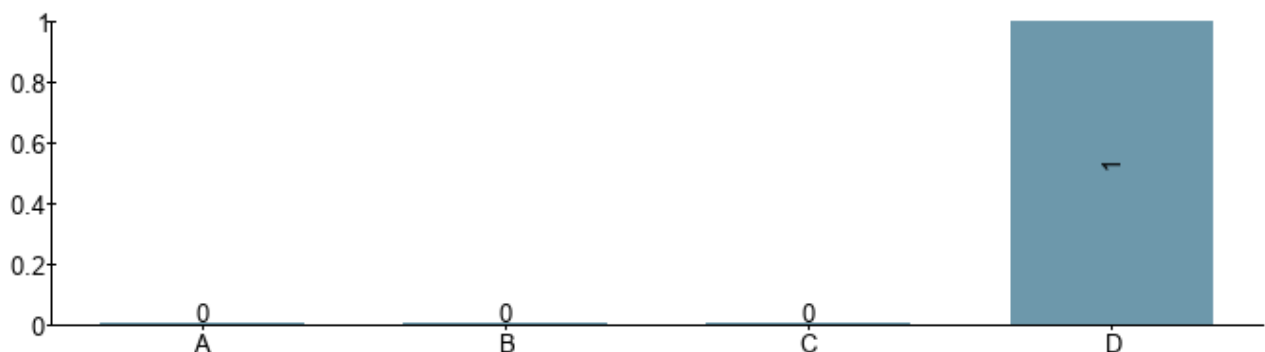

- A) To a very large extent
- B) To a large extent
- C) To some extent
- D) To a little extent or not at all

3. My workload (including scheduled activities and independent work) during the course has been

- A) 40 hours per week or more (or 20 per week or more for courses given as half-time studies, 10 hours or more for courses given as full-time studies)
- B) Between 30 and 39 hours per week (or between 15 and 19 hours for courses given as half-time studies, or between 10 and 14 hours for courses given as full-time studies)
- C) Between 20 and 29 hours per week (or between 10 and 14 hours for courses given as half-time studies, or between 5 and 9 hours for courses given as full-time studies)

- A) To a very large extent
- B) To a large extent
- C) To some extent
- D) To a little extent or not at all

Analysis based on course evaluation, including comments fields. If information has been collected in other ways, it should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

1 out of 6 participants filled out this course evaluation form, hence, this analysis shouldn't be considered as representative. However, several points that the participants raised regarding the organisation of the course are valid. These are due to the first time course directorship, which adopted the previous version of the course involving new teachers and alignment with new themes and topics. Sudden illness of a teacher further complicated the things.

Nevertheless, the participants were overall happy with the course content (apart from the excursion).

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

Better organisation and communication would largely benefit the course in the next terms.
