Results of learning

All in all, the course was valuable for me.

Courses that were considered valuable were related to personal development, acquisition of new knowledge and skills, understanding of something. Higher ratings can refer to students' perceived development (learned a lot, and it was useful). Lower ratings can refer to scanty development of knowledge and skills or not understanding certain themes or their parts, not understanding the necessity and significance of the course, problems in the learning environment.

	Mean
All in all, the course was valuable for me	3

How likely would you be to recommend this course to a friend or colleague?

Net Promoter Score (NPS) = -25

Promoters = 1 (25%)

Passives = 1 (25%)

Detractors = 2 (50%)

The Net Promoter Score (NPS) is a metric that measures student experience and predicts the effectiveness of a course. It calculates an NPS score based on a key question using a 0-10 scale, asking how likely students would recommend the course to others. Respondents are grouped into Promoters, Passives, or Detractors based on their score, and the NPS is calculated by subtracting the percentage of Detractors from the percentage of Promoters. The NPS is a core metric for course evaluation programs and is trusted by educational institutions to engage their students and improve their learning experience performance.

Comments

Course supervisor's comments

I am glad for the response given by at least four students within the course. I see a wide scope of reflections and I do guess that it would be a good thing to look over the information given in the course plan document in order to give a perhaps clearer explanation about the structure of the course, not least since it includes a final assignment meaning the production of your own smaller film documentary. It is of course good if all who attends the course realize what that means, from the beginning. I am glad to see that most students appreciate the possibilities to discuss the content of the course reading, attached to the assignments - that is crucial to the aim of this course. It is a course for further development.
