should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

In general the feedback was positive. In practice, the workload, however, seem to be a bit less than one week of work. However, it is hard to say whether the few that answered had already background knowledge and for that reason has less work.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

My suggestion is to extend the assignment for a more broad discussion of data protection principles (Comment: "I would have liked more assignments. We only got one, which felt too few. Granted, the course is only 1.5 credits, so there may not be so much time for assignments"). This will also slightly increase the workload.

Otherwise the comments were positive - so no more changes planned with the exception of updates.
