has been collected in other ways, it should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

This was the first time this course was issued.

Overall the feedback gives the impression that the students liked the course, that the workload was reasonable, but we need to develop the seminar procedure.

There is some critique related to long feedback response time and that is because of health problems in the teacher staff.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

We will develop the seminar procedure and try not to get sick.
