should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

Two students participated. One is registered in another (swedish) course-version, but is considered in this analysis. The two students are studying the mastreprogramme, and are englishspeaking. They took great responsibility for their internship, and were also very satisfied with their experiences, as were the internship workplaces who attended the oral examination. Both students presented detailed information in their examinations.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

None, for the moment. The course has been found relevant and suitable also for international students.

1. Number of first registrations for a course: First registration = the first time a student registers for a specific course.
