should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

The students were in general pleased with the course and found the teachers professional and knowledgeable. This was the first year with our new online learning platforms Canvas and Zoom, and the students commented these still need adjustment. One student asked for more insights into legal aspects of resource management. One student asked for more feedback on written assignments.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

We will continue to improve the Canvas and Zoom platforms and attempt to add a section on legal frameworks, and improve feedback to students.
