Analysis based on course evaluation, including comments fields. If information has been collected in other ways, it should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

The evaluation was completed by only 3 students and thus the number of responses is somewhat low to draw general conclusions about the course.

Compared to the last two years, changes were made in the second part of the course, which were not as well received by the students as hoped for. The first module was explicitly highlighted in a positive way.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

The evaluation largely refers to a course part that was modified this year. I therefore suggest that the structure of the entire course as well as the specific exams and exam instructions be changed back to last year's format.

1. Number of first registrations for a course: First registration = the first time a student registers for a specific course.
