Strengths of the course according to the students Q1: What are your main impressions from this course?          “- very good course in my major area of interest.          - state of the art knowledge was conveyed.          - professional, experienced and friendly teacher.” Q2: What individual knowledge acquired/lessons learned have you gained from participating in this course?          "- state of the art subject knowledge in the area of information systems and project Management.          - I could link the gained knowledge to already existent knowledge in the above mentioned areas or related areas (e.g. business administration, in particular operations management).          - I improved my ability of reading, reflecting and discussing scientific articles.” Q3: What has been the best with participating in this course?          “- fruitful discussions with the teacher on current research, on issues in practice and on future research avenues.          - the effort the teacher showed in supporting me in my learning.          - very interesting topics dealt with in the course; topics were closely related to the studies I do at my home university.” Q8: Do you want to recommend this course to others? Why? Why not?          "I definitely recommend this course to everybody who wants to write a master thesis in information systems. One needs to have a good overall picture of current research in order to link the own master thesis to existent knowledge. Furthermore, the course makes you familiar with reading and in turn leveraging scientific articles in written work or in a discussion."

The Student Union's two compulsory questions: 1. Perceived overall quality of the course on a scale between 1 (very low) and 5 (very high): 5. 2. Perceived work load on a scale between 1 (very low) and 5 (very high): 4.
Weaknesses of the course according to the students "Attract more students to the course. They would certainly benefit from it."
Analysis of the evaluation results High satisfaction with the course.
