Analysis based on course evaluation, including comments fields. If information has been collected in other ways, it should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

No responses to this evaluation have been made - however taken from comments from the students during the course they are overall satisfied with the structure and content. All students have passed all examinations on the first try, and overall they have performed well.
The teachers assigned to this course agree with this experience - no problems have arisen during the course.

This year further effort has been made to introduce the method and supervise the written assignment.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

No major changes necessary.

For next year - look through the reading list as some titles are getting dated.
