Analysis based on course evaluation, including comments fields. If information has been collected in other ways, it should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

There were several major changes to the course and how it was delivered; all led some communication issues and misunderstanding.

(1) It was the first run of the course after being fully modified.

(2) Teaching method of the course was changed from "teacher-centred" to "student-centred" with use of "flipped classrooms".

(3) The course was run online (because of the pandemic), and that greatly impacted having group activities originally planned for the flipped materials in the course.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

The Syllabus of the course will be updated to eliminate all sorts of confusions.

Group activities will be included even for the online session.
