Only three people responded to this questionnaire, but an oral evaluation was also conducted and the students appreciated the content of the course, the teachers and the assignments. Some suggestions were to have a deeper introduction to health because many are not within the health field.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

Changes for the next course will be to introduce the concept of health to a greater extent.

1. Number of first registrations for a course: First registration = the first time a student registers for a specific course.
