Analysis based on course evaluation, including comments fields. If information has been collected in other ways, it should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

An additional evaluation was performed with Menti during the last lecture asking for more detailed feedback on the different course parts. The feedback received there was generally positive, so no major revisions are planned.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

Some tweaks to the content and scheduling of the laboratory exercises are planned. We will strive to have even tighter coordination with the two parallelly running courses in terms of total student workload.
