should also be analysed here. Any effect of joint courses should be commented on.

In this evaluation we have only one student who responded and this makes the analyses difficult. However, at gender studies we have developed a survey that is designed for the course and is also anonymous. All the students have filled that survey and the overall reflection was very satisfactory and reflected a high level of satisfaction by the students.

Suggestions for changes to the next course date.

The required readings were too many and most of the students had difficulties managing to read them all. For the next term we shall reduce the number of required readings to make it more manageable for the students.

1. Number of first registrations for a course: First registration = the first time a student registers for a specific course.
