Summary of student evaluations based on the questionnaire, free text comments and any other data.

The programme coordinator's final analysis.

As there are some flexibility in the first year (second semester) and even more so in the last year, students should be able to design their studies to meet their as well as the university's expectations for this Master's programme.

Suggestions for improvements.

In the future we will try to pursue more collaboration with universities abroad, but it should be mentioned that some of our Master students have been or are involved as assistants in major EU projects.
