Summary of student evaluations based on the questionnaire, free text comments and any other data.

The evaluation is from one respondent only which is a small base to summarize. Greater clarity and the wider relevance of the subject needs to be established. Stronger links with industry and outside expertise is suggested. Most responses to the questions are defined as only 'to a certain extent'.

The programme coordinator's final analysis.

It is unfortunate that the number of respondents is only one. Nevertheless, the respondent makes some clear observations and suggestions that we will consider carefully. The programme has only just completed its first two-year cycle under Covid restrictions. This has made developing outside contacts and guest speakers difficult to facilitate. As the programme is able to establish itself under more normal conditions we expect an improvement.

Suggestions for improvements.

As the Covid restrictions begin to abate we will endeavor to facilitate stronger links with industry and outside agencies within the field. For a programme with a strong geographic component the restrictions have made the development of such links impossible so it is hoped that this can be effected more usefully. The overall vision and methodological focus of the programme will be carefully considered in the light of the comments made.
